THE STRIKE THREAT IN ENGLAND.

HOW INDUSTRIAL WARFARE SHOULD BE AVOIDED.

MR. A. J. COOK AT HIS OLD GAME!

Several groups of war clouds are at present gathering on the industrial horizon, and business men should exert all their influence to see that they are dispersed, says a writer in a British Commercial paper.

In the railway industry the trade unions are preparing demands for improvements in wages and conditions, while the railway companies are preparing counter-demands for reductions. Both sides are developing a belligerent spirit and sooner or later this means war.

In the mining industry wage agreements are expiring and mine-owners are demanding lower wages and an alteration by agreement of the Mines Act that will maintain the eight-hour day in place of the seven-and-a-half-hour day laid down in the Act.

That familiar figure of 1920, Mr. A. J. Cook, the miners' secretary, after a comparatively quiet period, is again talking of industrial war; he is preparing new strike slogans, but he is not to be blamed altogether, for his opponents refuse to reason with him and his more moderate colleagues. They refuse to nominate representatives to sit on the National Mining Council, set up by the Government, to which agreements and disputes would be referred.

Arbitration Preferred.

On the other hand, the partners in the boot and shoe industry, representing over 150,000 workers, have been meeting in London last month to discuss a new national wage and conditions agreement. Advances in wages and reductions of hours are being sought on behalf of the workers, and reductions in wages of the employers, but there is no fear of a strike or lock-out arising from these conflicting demands.

For over thirty years there has been no important or major dispute in the industry. The reason for this can be found in the records of the Boot and Shoe Trade Union. Fifty years ago Thomas Smith, the first secretary of the union, declared:—

"In the interests of the Trade as well as the welfare of our Union we urge upon the officers and members the need of cultivating a firm faith in the policy of referring disputes to Boards of Arbitration for mutual settlement, for we believe Arbitration means for safety of Trade Societies, the cultivation of good faith between employers and workmen, and the extension of that moral and intellectual prosperity which has attended our leading Trade Unions."

This policy has been maintained by the union. It took the employers nearly twenty years to see the wisdom of it, but in the twenties, after a series of disastrous strikes and lock-outs, and when another great dispute was threatened, a national agreement was drawn up and the principles of amicable discussion, negotiation and arbitration were adopted. Since then the principle has saved millions of pounds in wages to the workers and the employers alike. It has also given a stability and continuity and regulation of costs, and has prevented foreign competitors getting into our markets when disputes have been in progress.

Since the first national agreement was agreed to, it has been frequently revised and amended at the request of either party, the necessary notice for a revision and the terms of the revision required were given six months ago by both the union and the employers, and when they met last month, under an independent chairman, it was not in any way war-like, but in a friendly atmosphere. During the three days' negotiations the unions one day entertained the employers to luncheon. There are many points of disagreement, but both sides know and understand that they will not reach agreement by fighting, for when the fight is over, the problems still exist.

This is good business, both for the boot and shoe trade and for business generally, and business men should in every way possible bring these facts to the notice of their friends in the railway and mining industry now, not when it is too late.

One week's strike on the railway means a loss of over £1,000,000 in wages to the workmen alone, a national mining strike £2,500,000, to say nothing of the many more millions lost to other workers and trade generally by a dislocation of production in any great trade.

THURSDAY

RUSSIAN REPLY TO
CHINA.INSISTENCE ON HABAROVSK
PROTOCOL TERMS.

Moscow, Nov. 23.—Foreign Commissary Karakhan to-day replied to the note of the Chinese delegate Mr. Moh Teh Hui of November 17 as follows: "Acknowledging receipt of your letter of November 17 I am obliged to express extreme amazement concerning the fact that you consider your own statement of November 6 as quoted in my letter of November 10 as contradicting your actual statement on the basis of which you protest against its publication."

"Your statement of November 6 as quoted in my letter represents nothing new as you reiterated it in your negotiations with me on June 21, July 4 and October 8. During these negotiations you attempted to convince me that the Chinese Government and particularly the Chinese authorities of the Three Eastern Provinces observed and continue observing the Habarovsk Protocol so that there was no need for a new and formal recognition of the Habarovsk Protocol at the present Soviet-Chinese conference."

Fulfillment of Points.

"The Soviet Government could not however content itself with the mere statement of the fulfillment of the Habarovsk Protocol and insisted that this statement be actually carried out. Therefore, when the Chinese Government and particularly the authorities of the Three Eastern Provinces began to fulfil the previously unfulfilled points of the Habarovsk Protocol and you told me in our conversation of November 6 that there is and can be no doubt regarding the necessity of preserving the present régime of the Chinese Eastern Railway as restored in conformity with the Peking and Mukden treaties by the Habarovsk Protocol, the Soviet Government found it possible to go over to the discussion of further questions which form the subject of the deliberations of the Soviet-Chinese conference."

"Your statement of November 6, against the publication of which you protest, is also in full formal agreement with the document quoted below and signed by you as the representative of the Government of the Chinese Republic."

Minutes of Meeting.

The note then quotes the minutes of the meeting of the directorate of the Chinese Eastern Railway held on January 10, 1929, presided over by Mr. Moh Teh Hui and which decided: "The articles of the Soviet-Chinese agreement concluded in Habarovsk on December 22, 1929, to be accepted for guidance and execution by the directorate and management of the Chinese Eastern Railway."

The note then continues as follows:-

"In view of the above I cannot accept your protest because it is completely unfounded. I must express perplexity over the explanations given in your letter about your statement of November 6 which are in surprising and inexplicable contradiction of the reiterated statements of the Chinese party and the official documents which you are aware of."

"At the same time, I must note that your letter of November 17 does not contain a sufficiently complete and clear statement to the effect that by virtue of the Peking and Mukden treaties the present administration of the Chinese Eastern Railway in the whole and in part must not be subjected to a change by unilateral and arbitrary actions of one or the other party, and that any change of the administration of the Chinese Eastern Railway in any of its parts can be effected only through a mutually agreed decision. Your letter of November 17 contains such ambiguous formulations of this undeniable obligation already undertaken by the Chinese party in the Peking and Mukden treaties of 1924 and the Habarovsk Protocol, and confirmed in official statements and documents emanating from representatives of the Chinese Government, that this unexpected position of the Chinese Republic cannot but create the most serious misunderstandings."

CHINA SOCIETY IN LONDON.BEAUTIES OF CHINESE ARCHITECTURE.

There was quite a good attendance at the first of the season's lectures under the auspices of the China Society. It took place on October 31, at the School of Oriental Studies, Finsbury Circus, E.C.2. The lecturer was Mr. Arnold Silcock, F.R.I.B.A., and his subject, "Chinese Architecture," was freely illustrated with lantern slides.

Before the proceedings commenced the Secretary, Mr. H. T. Silcock, made an appeal to members of the Society for support for a school started by Mr. Tang in the East End of London to teach Anglo-Chinese children the Chinese national language.

His Excellency, Dr. Sze Kei Alfred Sze, the Chinese Minister, in introducing the lecturer, complimented the Society on the beginning of another year of its works of usefulness. The lecturer had been to China from 1921 to 1925, and was there associated with the construction of the University buildings at Chengtu, the designs of which were prepared by him.

Bridges of Marco Polo's Day.

Mr. Silcock said that although many of the bridges walked over in Peking had been seen by Marco Polo and dated from the days of Kublai Khan, the Chinese idea had been to build for the needs of the moment, and to emphasize beauty, in which they were peculiarly successful, rather than to seek permanence. Many features of Chinese architecture were originally importations from other countries. There was the influence of Rome and of Greece, and the influence of India and Buddhism was plainly to be seen in several features, notably in the pagoda and its development. In this connection the lecturer mentioned a visit to China in the 18th century by Sir William Chambers, and the unhappy sequel—the building of the pagoda in Kew Gardens. The lecturer referred to the florid carving of later-period Chinese architecture, and specially to the complications of the Chinese roof. Showing a number of pictures of what modern architects were doing in the way of adapting Chinese style, he said there was scope for buildings which, while useful for modern needs, would incorporate the general principles of design that had been practised in China for hundreds of years.

Privacy of Chinese Houses.

The Chinese Minister expressed the thanks of all present for a very interesting lecture. Chinese architecture was, he said, one of the many subjects he had neglected, but he hoped that the privacy of the Chinese homes as secured by the Chinese style of architecture would never give place to the Western idea, in some of which one could hear what was being said through the wall, and see what their neighbours were doing in the other side of the street.

On the proposal of Sir E. Denison Ross, seconded by Sir James Stewart Lockhart, a vote of thanks was accorded to the Chinese Minister for presiding.

No Arbitrary Action.

"The Soviet Government therefore considers it necessary to declare with special persistence and emphasis before the representative of the Chinese Republic and the authorities of the Three Eastern Provinces the complete inadmissibility of any arbitrary and unilateral actions in relation to the Chinese Eastern Railway for it was precisely such actions that created in 1929 a serious menace to peace and neighbourly relations between the Soviet Union and China."

"I take note of your statement that as a result of my letter of November 10 you accepted the proposal of the Soviet party to take up the discussion at the Soviet-Chinese conference of concrete questions relating to the Chinese Eastern Railway, commercial and diplomatic relations etc."

The note is signed by Foreign Commissary Karakhan.

KAISER'S SPY.

ANARCHIST HURT IN LONDON.

WHAT KING EDWARD KNEW.

Spy stories, whether they are related from the pages of real life or culled from the novelists or pseudo-adventurers, always possess a fascination of their own. "Steinhauer; the Kaiser's Master Spy," the personal record of the man himself is no exception to the rule, though the book deals chiefly with events of long ago.

One story which the writer claims has never been told before narrates exciting details of an anarchist hunt in the East End of London on the night prior to Queen Victoria's funeral.

Russian Anarchists.

Steinhauer was responsible for the safety of the Kaiser. Three anarchists from Russia were waiting to assassinate that monarch during the funeral procession. Steinhauer was worried.

With Superintendent Melville, of Scotland Yard, he set out on a dark, wet night, to capture the anarchists. Before starting, both the officers wrote letters "to be opened in the event of death."

A woman informer was the guide to the anarchists' den. She entered an upstairs room in a squalid quarter of London, the two officers waiting in the darkness below.

Suddenly there was a shout, tremendous commotion, a scream of pain, apparently from the woman, and a hail of bullets descended to the hall.

Chase Through Streets.

Under fire, the officers dashed up stairs to the room, and, stretched out on the floor, were the woman informant and one of the anarchists, both badly wounded. Two other men were disappearing through the window.

There was a chase through the streets; shots in the dark; but the anarchists escaped. On returning to the house the officers found that the injured people had been spirited away, presumably by the two anarchists who had given the police the slip.

The woman's body was later found in the Thames. Queen Victoria's funeral passed without incident. Only King Edward and the two officers know of the incidents of the preceding night.

MISS VANBRUGH ENTERTAINED.

GUEST OF TOWN AND COUNTRIES CLUB.

Miss Irene Vanburgh was the guest at luncheon recently of the Town and Countries Club, Manchester. The reception was attended by the Lady Mayores (Mrs. R. Noton Barclay) and the Mayor and Mayoress of Salford (Councillor and Mrs. S. Finburgh).

Mrs. J. L. Stocks, who was in the chair, welcoming Miss Vanburgh, said that the British public felt for Miss Vanburgh a "peculiar liking," comparable to that which they had for her great predecessor, Ellen Terry.

Replying, Miss Vanburgh said that if London, where she belonged, came first in her theatrical life, Manchester certainly came second, and she recollected with pleasure the season she had spent in the city in company with her late husband. Manchester could produce one of the best, possibly the finest, audience in the world.

The Lady Mayores said that in these days when so many other forms of entertainment were claiming our attention, admirable though they might be, we owed a debt of gratitude to Miss Vanburgh for her part in keeping alive the best part of the drama.

At the conclusion of the luncheon, Miss Vanburgh was made an honorary member of the Club.

PASTOR DEFENDS SHORT SKIRTS.

CHALLENGE TO THE VICTORIANS.

"The passion of sex is dangerous, like fire, and entrancingly beautiful," said the Rev. Edward Morgan, in his presidential address to the East Glamorgan English Congregational Association here.

"The Church never did the world such ill service," he continued, "as when she associated this divine hunger with uncleanness, and nothing is more imperative than that on this matter, almost more than any other, she should revise her ideas."

The Flapper.
"One day," he said, giving a personal experience, "I was riding in a tramcar in Cardiff, and opposite sat a young girl, popularly and profanely described as a flapper. She displayed large, clean, and generous areas of shapely limbs, but appeared quite unaware of it."

"Here are my reflections: 'I cannot tell, young woman, what you are thinking about. You may be thinking of sex, tennis, the cosmos, or cosmetics.'"

"My reflections were interrupted by a Victorian woman entering the tram-car. She wore a skirt over her knees. As she took her seat she pulled down her skirt another inch."

"My reflection was, 'I know what you are thinking about, and that is sex.'"

"Superficially the Victorian was more modest, but the flapper may have been the purer."

LESSON SERMON.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, HONG KONG.

"Ancient and modern necromancy, alias mesmerism and hypnotism, denounced" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 30.

The Golden Text was: "Do not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good." (Romans 12: 21.)

Among the citations, which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "There shall not be found among you any one that maketh his son or his daughter to pass through the fire, or that useth divination, or an observer of times, or an enchanter, or a witch, or a charmer, or a consulter with familiar spirits, or a wizard, or a necromancer. For all that do these things are an abomination unto the Lord: and because of these abominations the Lord thy God doth drive them out from before thee. Thou shalt be perfect with the Lord thy God." (Deut. 18: 10-12.)

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christian Science goes to the bottom of mental action, and reveals the theory which indicates the rightness of all divine action, as the emanation of divine Mind, and the consequent wrongness of the opposite so-called action—evil, occultism, necromancy, mesmerism, animal magnetism, hypnotism." (p. 104.)

MARQUIS' KISS AT THE ALTAR.

BRILLIANT WEDDING IN OLD ST GILES.

The last, sonorous words that pronounced the Marquis of Graham, heir of the Duke of Montrose, and Miss Isabel Veronice-Sellar man and wife still echoed in St. Giles Cathedral last month when a bridegroom stepped forward and removed the veil of the new Marchioness of Graham.

Her husband bent his head and kissed her.

Then the music of the pipes, which skirted from the doorway in a flood of triumph, told the killed crowds in High-street that the marriage had taken place. It was a signal for women to break through the cordon of police, who, reforming their ranks, were again brushed aside in the rush of thousands.

It was the most spectacular wedding Edinburgh has seen for years. The marquis, in his velvet jacket and lace ruffles, his kilt and sporran and the sword of the great marquis by his side, might have been Bonnie Dundee himself.

Montrose Heirloom.

The bride wore the lovely heirloom lace veil of the Montrose family, arranged with a coronet of pearls, and the magnificent wedding dress belonged to Mary Queen of Scots, which was clasped round her throat.

Her gown of ivory satin had a pearl embroidered Medici collar, and over it she wore a long-waisted coat of ivory velvet, which flowed behind to form a train. Bonfires blazed all over Arman when the marquis brought his bride home to the island of Graham, and a wave of cheering swept across the frith when the steamer's lights were seen.

THE SILVER SCREEN.

"CHASING RAINBOWS."

"Chasing Rainbows" Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's all-talking, singing, dancing romance which opened yesterday at the Queen's Theatre is a brilliant successor to "The Broadway Melody." The same starring pair, Charles King and Bessie Love are featured in a vital colourful love story against a backstage setting, with lilted songs beautiful girls and spectacular technicolour scenes.

The new songs are "Everybody Tap," "Happy Days Are Here Again" and "Lucky Me, Lovable You," by Milton Ager and Jack Yellen; "Love Ain't Nothing But the Blues," by Lew Alter and Joe Goodwin; and "My Dynamite Personality," by Fred Fisher, George Ward and Reggie Montgomery.

"A LADY TO LOVE."

Wilma Banky, Hungarian film star, and Victor Sostrom, director of such outstanding cinema achievements as "The Scarlet Letter" and "Ho who Gets Slapped," will make a joint entrance into the all-talking picture field when Miss Banky's starring vehicle, "A Lady To Love," is showing shortly at the Queen's Theatre.

Although Miss Banky spoke a few lines in her last picture, "This Is Heaven," the new production will be her first all-talking endeavour; Mr. Sostrom, on the other hand, has confined his directorial activities heretofore entirely to the silent screen and his first audible work will be looked forward to with considerable interest.

The picture, adapted from an original story by Sidney Howard, playwright, contains an exceptional cast which includes Motore Amos, direct from Gloria Swanson's "The Trespasser," Edward G. Robinson, Lloyd Ingraham, George Davis, Anderson Lawler, Gun Chim, Richard Carl and Henry Armetta.

Information is that Miss Banky was the subject of similar disquietude in respect to her talking qualifications as was experienced by the Swedish Greta Garbo previous to the showing of "Anna Christie," which raised all doubt in regard to the latter's speaking potentialities. However, suspense in connection with Miss Banky's voice is somewhat lessened as the star's brief audible sequence in her last production has prepared audiences for her slight accent.

"THE LADY OF THE HAREM."

"The Lady of the Harem" which is showing at the World Theatre to-day is a story laid in the glittering Persian city of Khorsan during the period of the Arabian Nights. The story begins with a beautiful Persian maid is seized by soldiers of the oppressive Sultan and taken to the slave market, owing to her father being unable to pay the taxes.

There, despite the efforts of her lover, she is purchased for the Sultan's harem. How the lover recovers the girl provided one of the most exciting silent films ever shown in the Colony with the beautiful Persian city as the background. The leading roles are filled by Esmée Lawrence, (the Sultan), Greta Miska, (the maid), William Collier, Jr. (the lover) and Louise Fazenda, who contributes most of the humour.

ENGLAND THE CREDITOR NATION.

STILL RICHER THAN U.S.A.

"The National Wealth of the United Kingdom" was the text of an address delivered at the Midland Hotel, to the members of the Manchester Fortnightly Society by Mr. John Smith. Dr. Clark presided.

In spite of unemployment and depression, the lecturer said, the material wealth of England had increased and was still increasing. It was still the credit country of the world, and was becoming more so every year. It might seem astonishing to some, but the fact remained that we were richer to-day than we were before the war. The burden of taxation was laid mainly on the rich, but the rich had not been taxed out of existence, as many predicted would be the case. There were more millionaires and greater wealth in England in 1914 than in 1913. The national wealth in England in 1914 stood at £23,000,000,000. England as a creditor country was still much richer than the United States.

SUNDAY GAMES.

At a meeting in Manchester a resolution was passed by the Manchester District Committee and Sunday School Committee of the Primitive Methodist Church, representing 14,199 members and 28,543 Sunday school scholars, regretting "to see public-spirited men leading a crusade in favour of Sunday games to be played on municipally owned property. We respect their motives, but believe best for the community, they are mistaken, and therefore we must oppose them."

HOME FOOTBALL.

LEAGUE MATCH RESULTS ON SATURDAY.

GLASGOW RANGERS NOW AT TOP OF TABLE.

There were no league matches in the Third Division of the English League on Saturday owing to the clubs in both sections being engaged in the First Round proper of the F.A. Cup Competition. A Renter cable to hand gives the bare scores of the Cup matches, but it is not possible to publish them in the absence of official advice as to the teams included in the draw.

In the First Division English League matches, Sheffield Wednesday exchanged places with Portsmouth, the latter being disengaged, while the Arsenal strengthened their position at the top of the League table. Everton, while still leading in the Second Division, were beaten at Bradford. Burnley were forced to a draw, while two of their close rivals took full points to improve their position on goal average.

The Scottish League fixture between Celtic (leaders) and Aberdeen was postponed owing to fog.
Partick had an unexpected defeat at the hands of Leith, which had the effect of sending the Rangers, who had an easy victory against Clyde, to the premier place.
Results of League matches and corrected League tables are appended.

SUPPRESSION OF PIRACY.

CAPTAIN'S OBLIGATION.

It is notified in the Gazette that the following new regulation has been made by the Governor-in-Council under the Suppression of Piracy Ordinance:

"14A. The master or other person in charge of a ship shall take effective measures to cause, and he shall, cause the movements of his ship to be in accordance with those regulations, and he shall take effective measures to prevent, and he shall prevent the coming on board or embarkation of any person and the bringing on board of anything contrary to or not in accordance with those regulations.

SUNDAY PERMITS.

REVISED FEES FOR WORKING CARGO.

The scale of fees for Sunday permits set forth in the third schedule to the Sunday Cargo Working Ordinance, 1922, is revised and the following is substituted therefor:—

Register tonnage:—
400 or under, $75.
Exceeding 400 but not exceeding 700, $100.
Exceeding 700 but not exceeding 1,000, $125.
Exceeding 1,000 but not exceeding 1,500, $150.
Exceeding 1,500 but not exceeding 2,000, $175.

ceeding 4,000, $225.
Exceeding 4,000 but not exceeding 5,000, $250.
Exceeding 5,000, $250.
The foregoing regulation shall come into operation on January 1, 1931.

GUNPOWDER STORAGE.

NEW SCALE OF CHARGES.

The scales of charges for the storage of gunpowder and other explosives in the Government Depots, contained in Table B in the Schedule to the Merchant Shipping Ordinance, 1899, have been revised and the following substituted therefor:—
The minimum charge for each 50
lb. or fraction of 50 lb., gross weight, shall be $1 a month or fraction of a month; except as above, the charge shall be 25 cents for each 50 lb. or fraction of 50 lb., gross weight, for a month or fraction of a month.
The weight of the various packages will be determined at the time of storing, and no alteration will be allowed after they have been received into the magazine.

The Government will not be responsible for damage by explosion, or by insufficient or improper packing; as wooden packages are liable to the attacks of white ants, they should be tin-lined, and the lining should be intact.

LIGHT DUES DOUBLED.

NEW SCALE AS FROM JANUARY 1.

An increase in the light dues, payable by ships entering the harbour, is notified in the Gazette.
The amended Table now reads:
1. All ships, other than river steamers, which enter the waters of the Colony, except British and foreign ships of war and all vessels of less than 20 tons, shall pay the following dues, viz:— four cents per ton.
2. Such dues shall be paid at the time of entry.
3. All river steamers which enter the waters of the Colony, by day or by night, shall pay 15 cents per ton.
Previously, vessels other than river steamers paid two cents per ton, and river steamers paid five sixths of a cent. The new scale comes into force on January 1, next.

K SHOES

How perfectly they fit!

And well they may! For by combining two fittings in one shoe—a 3 fitting heel with a 4 fitting forepart, for instance—you get a shoe which hugs the ankle closely. This gives that final touch of elegance and fashion which goes with a slim ankle neatly and snugly housed, without sacrificing the comfort essential for the toes.

That is the secret of the famous K Plus fittings, which actually give extra comfort. The diagram shows what the Plus fitting is.

SITTING BULL'S GREAT TRIUMPH.

EX-CHAMPION WINS HANDSOMELY FROM NATIONALIST II.
AND PRESIDENT HALL.

FAVOURITES SHARE HONOURS WITH OUTSIDERS: BIG DIVIDEND PAID BY "D" CLASS WINNER.

[By "MORNING DEW."]

The St. Andrew's Stakes over which there has been so much speculation resulted in a glorious win for Mrs. Dunbar's Sitting Bull ridden by Mr. Heard. The public supported Sitting Bull, President Hall and Nationalist II, evenly and although there were six starters, the rest of the field never had a look in. Sitting Bull's victory was an exceedingly meritorious one and the pony should be a hot favourite for the Hong Kong Autumn Champions which is due to be run a fortnight hence. Incidentally Mr. Heard played no small part in bringing Sitting Bull home in front of such strong opposition and the result may rightly be called a personal triumph for this experienced jockey.

Tango returned to winning form and accounted for the Second Division of the Lanark Handicap. He should be watched when the Subscription Griffins' Champions comes off on December 13.

The "D" class handicap event over six furlongs provided the biggest dividend of the day when As You Like It, carrying only 32 winning tickets, came home a winner to pay $362.60 to each of his supporters. The pony was prominent throughout the race and responded strongly in the straight. The favourite, Osiris, only just managed to dead-beat for third place.

MR. IP WINS NOVICE RACE ON MARQUIS HALL.

THE RACING.

Starting half an hour earlier than usual, the day's racing opened with a win for the favourite Kom Tong Hall ridden by Mr. Frost in the "Ewo" Handicap. King Thistle, carrying an impost of 180 pounds, made full use of the hundred yards handicap conceded to him, but he failed in the straight and was passed by several ponies. Kom Tong Hall was pressed by Duncie in the closing stages of the race but managed to stall off defeat by a length. Heretofore was third, three lengths away.

How Royal Flush Won.

The public made no mistake about the next race by supporting Royal Flush and Chesapeake Bay. They finished in that order, the former leading all the way and the latter running in his characteristic way, that is, depending entirely on the final rush. Christmas Chimes who had accounted for Chesapeake Bay at the previous meeting, was scantly supported. He gave a good account of himself and ran into third place.

Majestic Hall was the disappointment here and I have a feeling that the pony did not like being sent after Royal Flush early in the race. Drawing an outside position, Mr. Pan tried hard to get the lead, but had to be content with second place until the half mile post when his mount, gradually gave way to the others.

The time for the race was, considering the class, on the slow side.

Favourite Wins Again.

Carrying the most tickets in the "C" Class race over six furlongs, Grey Dawn managed to win by three lengths from a field of thirteen. The start saw several ponies left but there was nothing in the race until the village bend, when was rounded. Here Armony and Grey Dawn were both prominent, but the former could not respond to Mr. Charles' repeated urgings and left a clear field to Grey Dawn who won easily. Armony was nearly ousted out of second place by Diana who came up with a belated rush to pass the winning post only three quarters of a length behind Armony.

Tango Triumphs.

The second division race over the mile and a quarter, enabled Mr. Harriman to change his luck as he brought home a winner after no fewer than thirty outings. Tango was fighting fit and was well handled to beat Christmas Belle and City Hall. Tonbridge set the pace throughout and was accompanied by Shanghai Beau during the earlier stages of the race. Mr. Harriman hung on comfortably until the straight was reached when he took command and brought Tango in on the rails. Meanwhile, Mr. Heard on Christmas Belle waited patiently at the helm and took his mount out on entering the straight. He looked like passing Tango at one time but the latter had much in hand and drew away at the close to win by a length and a half. City Hall was third.

Experience Tells.

Sitting Bull's appearance in the St. Andrew's Stakes made an interesting triangular contest between that candidate, President Hall and Nationalist. The other starters were Peppermint, New Year's Eve and Hiawatha. Mr. Roza on Nationalist "stepped on the gas" from the word "Go" but this did not suit Mr. Pan who was riding Mr. Ho Kom Tong's ex-Derby winner. President Hall was, therefore, sent after Nationalist and the two raced a good ten lengths ahead of the remainder of the field, Sitting Bull being last over the first three-quarters of a mile.

Nationalist and President Hall kept their lead until the Rock, the former being two lengths in front all the way. Meanwhile Peppermint and Sitting Bull set about to reduce the lead, but seemingly, without effect. From the Rock, there was a great duel between Nationalist and President Hall and a chorus of "Aiyahs" was heard as the Hall pony gradually drew level with Nationalist. The two took the village bend together while Sitting Bull and Peppermint still had many lengths to make up.

Entering the straight for the final run, it appeared as if Nationalist and President Hall would provide a fine duel. Few people looked beyond the two, but those who did saw Mr. Heard literally flying away from Peppermint and draw up with the leaders. A hundred yards from home President Hall was slightly ahead of Nationalist with Sitting Bull coming up strongly on the outside. Nationalist made a great effort here and shook off President Hall, but Sitting Bull was running too beautifully then to be threatened and he finally won by half a length from Nationalist with President Hall only three quarters of a length away.

Mr. Heard's confidence in Sitting Bull's final burst won Mrs. Dunbar the honours. Had Mr. Heard strived with President Hall and Nationalist for leadership in the earlier stages of the race, a different story might be told. He was many lengths behind all the way but in spite of that he never asked his mount for a real effort until the straight was reached. As for President Hall, he was asked to make a great effort to pass Nationalist when rounding the village bend on the run home. He responded gallantly but when asked again at the home stretch, he found the task beyond him. Nationalist ran as well as might be expected but he lacked the great finish which Sitting Bull possessed.

Hot Favourite Ousted.

Mr. Ho Kom Tong's stable made up for the defeat of President Hall by scoring a win with Marquis Hall in the very next race. Here Lobster Bay was the firm favourite carrying half the money invested. Marquis Hall took the lead from the start and led throughout, although at no time was he more than a length in front. Lobster Bay and Misty Eve made a great effort in the straight, but Mr. Ip managed to keep them off. He won by half a length from Lobster Bay in an exciting finish.

African Eve's Sprint.

Although African Eve disappointed at the last meeting, the form which he showed then, after falling a victim to a bad start, was sufficient to earn him great support from the public on Saturday when he started a favourite for the Glasgow Handicap "B" Class. He ran all the way with the leaders and never looked anything else but a winner. Pickle gave a display of his old form by running into second place and Monterey Bay occupied the remaining place.

A 70-1 Winner.

As You Like It paid over 70-1 by accounting for Osiris, Noukhail and Teuchit in the "D" Class six furlongs race. He ran home in the good time of 1 minute 33.5 seconds, and considering his comfortable win, the pony is worth watching when he starts again in future. Mongolian Stag ran very well here and is a pony that might turn up when least expected. Osiris started none too well and had to work his way through a big field to come up with the leaders in the straight. The weight he was carrying was against him.

Mr. Reidy Wins Again.

The last race of the day provided Mr. Reidy with a win on Fair Sport. Here Little Thunder, The Tiger and Fair Sport carried the bulk of the betting, and quite a thrill was provided when Crown Prince, who was comparatively lightly backed, took the lead early on and kept it all the way, running comfortably. Entering the straight he was at least three lengths to the good, but when the others challenged him, he was a beaten pony and allowed both The Tiger and Fair Sport to pass him. Fair Sport went on to win from The Tiger. Crown Prince took third place with Little Thunder who came up with a belated rush.

STUDENTS' STRIKE
AT CANTON.TROUBLE AT SUN YAT SEN
UNIVERSITY.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

CANTON, Nov. 30.

The students of Sun Yat Sen University, at a meeting held yesterday morning, decided to go on strike for a period of three days beginning to-morrow (Monday) in protest against the appointment of Mr. Kiu Tsang Ching as President.

Considerable commotion was stirred up when the students learned a few days ago of the transference of Dr. Chu Chia Hua, the present President, to the Central University at Nanking, and of his successor. They declared that Mr. Kiu, the present Commissioner of Education, is not qualified for the presidency. They have wired to Nanking, urging the cancellation of the appointment, and to prevail upon Dr. Tai Chi Tau, the President of the Examination Yuan of the National Government, to return to Canton and take up the portfolio again.

A publicity campaign on a large scale against the newly-appointed President for the University appeared to be much in evidence. All the bulletin boards and some of the walls were plastered with slogans of an inflammatory nature. All this was done in the name of the Student Body of the University, which appropriated $500 for the purpose. As far as it has been ascertainable, no member of the faculty is involved in the agitation.

The University authorities as well as educators in general in Canton, are viewing the agitation with alarm, and are unanimous in their condemnation. Students meddling with the administration of their institution is a serious matter, and should be checked by all means, they declared. The severe setback in education some five years ago, when the city was under the influence of the Communists, was due to such wanton activities of the students.

Dr. Chu Chia Hua, President of the University, who has been away in Nanking, is expected to return to the University to-morrow or the next day to see what measures can be taken to keep the situation in hand. He will try to persuade the students to cancel their three days' strike, probably bringing pressure to bear on the leaders of the agitation.

It is feared that this agitation of the students in the Government University may have some political motive behind it. Public opinion, as reflected in the leading articles of the local newspapers, disapproves of the movement.

SIR JOHN SUTTON VISITS
CANTON.ENTERTAINED AT SUN YAT
SEN UNIVERSITY.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

CANTON, Nov. 30.

Sir John Sutton, the eminent British medical authority, came to Canton and visited the Medical College of the Sun Yat Sen University yesterday. He was accompanied by Lady Sutton and Dr. Lee Shee Fun, a well-known medical practitioner in Hong Kong. The party were given a most cordial welcome and were the guests of honour at a banquet given by Mr. Shen Pan Fat, acting President of the University.

PIRATE OUTRAGE ON WEST RIVER.STEAM LAUNCH MINED AND SUNK.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

CANTON, Nov. 30.

Another outrage was committed on the West River in the vicinity of Chan Tsun when pirates mined and sank the steam launch Wing Fat and three of the eight fish boats which it was towing. Over ten men are known to have perished and eight are still missing.

The teachers are not satisfied and have expressed indignation to the Government immediately.

The outrage was due to the failure of the Wing Fat to comply with the demands of the pirates in the matter of "protection fees."

"WITH BYRD AT THE SOUTH POLE."MAGNIFICENT FILM AT CENTRAL THEATRE.

"With Byrd at the South Pole," now showing till Tuesday (inclusive) at the Central Theatre, is a remarkable and adequate record of a great adventure. It conveys fully the beauty, the terror and the vastness of the Antarctic Continent. Captain (now Admiral) Byrd, as everyone knows, made a twenty hours' flight from his base, Little America, over the South Pole. But these formal words suggest nothing of the perils of that flight and the magnitude of the enterprise.

The film shows the start of the adventure and the voyage of the City of New York, across the pleasant tropical seas and then through the "chattering sixties" into the vastnesses of the Antarctic. Nothing could be more stirring than the pictures of the ship thrusting through the ice-park, and finally anchoring opposite the great Ross Barrier, a huge cliff of ice extending for hundreds of miles.

The camp is pitched, stout huts are built, the three 'planes are unpacked and the tall masts of the radio station erected. Trial flights are made, one of the 'planes is wrecked in a blizzard, and Dr. Gould, the second in command, who is out on a surveying expedition is nearly lost with his companions.

Animal Pictures.

In this part of the film are some excellent animal pictures, notably of those quaintest of birds, the penguins of the Antarctic, of some seals and of a school of whales, whose activities near, and under, the camp gave many anxious moments. All through the film the blizzard, howling, terrifying and sudden is the evil genie of the drama. Here the sound film helps immensely in portraying the terror of those storms. They arise suddenly, snow is swept in gigantic quantities across the surface of the ice and then the storm dies down as mysteriously as it arose.

The actual flight is, perhaps, marred by the staccato flow of comment. That torrent of words is out of harmony with the great silences and the terrible utterances of the South Pole. It is inadequate to the men whose deeds we see. A few quiet comments were all that was necessary. But despite this blemish the film is a great pictorial record. The little human touches are well chosen and one is carried into the life of a band of very gallant and, despite hardships, very happy gentlemen.

Curiously enough the film was severely criticised in the London papers. It is difficult to see the reason for this. There was a suggestion that the memories of Scott, of Oates and Amundsen were slighted. There is not the least ground for this. On the contrary very generous tribute is paid throughout to those men who faced the same hardships without the equipment provided for this expedition. One can only say that Admiral Byrd, and his comrades, are in the true succession of the gallant band of Polar explorers of all nations.

THREATENED STRIKE BY CANTON TEACHERS.DEMAND FOR ARREARS OF SALARY.

It is reported that the teachers in the Government primary schools in Canton are threatening to strike as their salaries have not been paid. There are over seventy primary schools in the city with 1,000 teachers, and up to the end of November, they have received only forty per cent. of their salary for September. They have appealed to the Bureau of Education which has decided to pay salaries for November only and to hold up the balance due for September and October until funds are available.

The teachers are not satisfied and have expressed indignation to the Commissioner of Education. They demand that the arrears be cleared off, they will declare a strike.

EFFECTIVE BURGLAR
ALARM.POLICE RESERVIST FACES
FIVE BURGLARS.

An effort to carry out a burglary on a large scale by five men on Friday morning was frustrated by the effectiveness of a burglar alarm device. The premises concerned are in the basement of the Dunlop Building, 25, Johnston Road, Wanchai, where bicycle accessories are kept. One man was caught and charged before Mr. R. E. Lindsay at the Central Magistracy on Saturday.

In his outline of the case, Detective-Sergeant Lamont said that four men broke into the godown by means of duplicate keys. The manager, Mr. A. J. Reptis, was roused by an alarm bell which sounded in his house, about three doors away from the godown. This alarm, explained the officer, was so fitted that at any time the basement door was opened a bell would ring and to notify Mr. Reptis.

Arriving at the godown with his Police Reservist revolver, Mr. Reptis was met by four men armed with bamboo poles. Pursuing the burglar, Mr. Reptis knocked down one man with the butt of his revolver. There was a truck outside the godown, and it was probably intended for the removal of goods which the men meant to take away. Mr. Reptis made a report at the Police Station and on his return he did not make a note of the number of the vehicle.

The case will be continued at 11.30 a.m. to-day.

ST. PETER'S GARDEN
FETE.SUCCESSFUL FUNCTION ON SATURDAY.

The fourth annual St. Peter's Garden Fete, which was held in the St. Peter's Church Grounds, West Point, was opened by Mrs. H. T. Greasy, in the presence of a large crowd on Saturday. Besides the large number of stalls, which included the sweets stall, flower stall, plants stall, fruit stall, fancy stall, and the popular dollar stall, there were side-shows and other entertainments which provided much fun for young and old alike.

The side-shows which received good patronage included the ever popular coconut shy, hoop-la, fish pound, gold fish dip, 10 cent square and midgot golf.

The proceeds of Saturday's successful fair go to benefit the St. Peter's young Men's Club, the 5th Hong Kong Boy Scouts, and the St. Peter's branch of the Victoria Dioxane Missionary Society, which undertakes various social works in the Colony, particularly in connection with the Blind Home at Pokfulam, the inmates of which are annually treated by the Young Men's Club to a motor-car picnic.

Stall-Holders.

The following helpers contributed to the success of the fete:—

Dollar Stall:—Miss B. Yuen, Mrs. H. L. Fox, Mrs. D. Fok, Miss E. Samy, Miss R. Randall, Miss H. Kew, Miss E. Kew, Miss C. Yuen, Miss S. Yuen, Miss Lau, Miss I. Frith, Mr. W. L. Cunningham.

Sweet Stall:—Miss G. Sue, Miss S. Sue, Miss L. Sue.

Fancy Stalls:—Mrs. G. W. R. Griggs, Miss I. Mok Fung, Miss Joan Smith, Miss Marie Clarke.

Flower Stall:—Mrs. A. Swann, Mrs. H. V. Koop.

Refreshments:—Mrs. C. B. Shann, Mrs. G. Bradley, Mrs. E. Booker, Mrs. I. Day, Mrs. A. W. Millar, Mrs. H. A. Allen, Miss Rogers, Miss Handlin, Miss Woolley, Miss Iris Woolley, Miss Woolley, Miss Booker, Miss J. Booker, Miss M. Hooker.

Side Shows:—Mr. T. G. Youngs, Mr. W. Sue, Mr. E. S. Cunningham, 1st Hong Kong Sea Scouts, 5th Hong Kong Scouts.

Gate:—Mr. E. Manning, Mr. H. A. Allen, Mr. R. C. Randall.

ROBBERY IN BROAD DAYLIGHT.HOUSE RANSACKED BY ARMED GANG.

In broad daylight, an armed gang of robbers, numbering ten men, entered the Tung Yee Tong Seamen's Boarding House, at No. 235, Queen's Road West, second floor, on Saturday, and took away $750 from a safe, and other valuables worth $200.

Ho Kwong Chun, manager of the boarding house, reported to the Police that shortly after noon on Saturday, he was lying on his bed on the rear of the floor, when two men, one pointing a revolver at him, entered his room and demanded the keys to the safe. The manager replied that he had no keys.

The two robbers bound and gagged the manager and taking the keys from a box proceeded to ransack the safe, finally taking away $750 in money and a gold watch.

At the same time, eight other men were busy in other parts of the house and collected watches and jewellery valued at about $200.

"I always had got pains in my arms and legs, and I suffered from severe nervous headaches, but I do not have them now, thanks to Phosferine. At first I thought I should never be well again, but when I heard that my brother was taking Phosferine I thought I would try it, and in the first two or three days I began to feel better, and I sleep better, which is a blessing at my age, as I am 71 and people say I am a wonder for my age. I am still healthy and well, and am able to carry out my household duties, and in addition I have also been nursing and looking after an old gentleman, besides shopping which means a mile and a half of walking daily—I could not have done it without the help of Phosferine, as the influenza left me feeling very weak and broken in health. I find so many people, when they get on in years, think nothing will do them good, but I say to them, do not think that, take Phosferine, and what it has done for me it can do for you." I advise others to take Phosferine and guard against nerve pains and influenza, etc., and anyone who has suffered that way should take it to build themselves up again." ENGLAND'S COAL STRIKE DANGER.

It is profoundly to be hoped that the threatened coal strike in England will be averted. Few things could be more disastrous and give rise to greater suffering at home than a stoppage in that industry. Official unemployment figures are well over the two million mark and, in any case, a winter of unexampled hardship is expected. On the other hand, the prospect before this cloud arose was not wholly black. The South and West of England, including London, are fairly prosperous, there have been signs of a general trade revival, and the improvement in the political situation both in China and in India has given rise to hopes of more work for our factories and the allied processes of commerce and industry.

To be faced with even a threat of a stoppage of work in the coal mines is to jeopardise every hope of revival. Capital is nervous and orders will not be placed where there is danger of disturbance and non-fulfilment of contracts. If the strike materialises the seriousness of the position cannot be overestimated. Britain finds it hard enough already to compete in the markets of the world, but if in addition to high wages and burdensome taxation we are to be faced with a cessation of our native coal supply Britain must inevitably drop further back in the race for Trade. Eager rivals will spurt ahead while we are dissipating our energies on suicidal disputes.

England is reaping the harvest of over a century's neglect of the mining industry. It was allowed to grow up in the tradition of Victorian laissez faire, and while huge fortunes were made by the few the miner was not fairly treated. The disappointed mining community have, in consequence, been a national problem for over thirty years. Though much has been done for these men it has been haphazard and local. There are good pits and bad. British coal mining remains to this day in a middle, and the task of putting it on a satisfactory and scientific footing has never been faced. Haggle between owners and miners has been the basis of conducting the industry, each side trying to wring what it can from the other, or from the community at large in the form of subsidies. Britain's coal mining industry, from being an industrial problem, has now grown into a grave constitutional and economic menace. The average miner, very humanly, wants more money and shorter hours. The more thoughtful ones, and the clinical leaders, aim at nationalisation of the mines. That would have been the wisest course ten years ago, but it is doubtful how far the country could now afford so drastic a remedy. Grave objection is also open to putting a state-owned industry, well organised internally, in the position of being able to bring constant political pressure to bear on the Government of the day for better terms and better pay. It might become an industrial Praetorian Guard, stronger than the constitutional authority. This danger has always been recognised, though, indeed, England has never tolerated any form of Praetorian Guard.

To-day, however, the stark fact remains that the miners are not well paid. Many are on short time, and unemployment is rife. Their natural dissatisfaction has been exploited by the revolutionary leader, Mr. A. J. Cook, the evil genius of the industry for the past ten years. Mr. Cook, who has managed to secure a dominant position in the Miners' Federation, is the friend of prominent revolutionary officials in Russia and he has been entertained and feted in the Soviet Republic. His frank object is to set up a Soviet régime in England, and he is using, as he has persistently used, the Miners' Federation for this end. His method is to bankrupt England, or what he himself calls "the capitalist system."

It is inconceivable that the nation will allow this strike, any more than it allowed the General Strike. The economic situation is too serious to permit of this folly. If the present Government cannot bring masters and men together, another will have to take its place. A huge community, well-disciplined and law-abiding, like that of Britain, has power of self-protection. Masters, miners and Government will have to come to a settlement, and a settlement satisfactory not only to themselves but to the whole nation. Public opinion is a dangerous enemy, and means will be found for dealing with those who aim at the destruction not only of prosperity but of the very means of livelihood for our people.

CHINA AND LANCASHIRE.

It is a long time since Manchester described China as "the bright feature" of the piece goods market, and the recent change of tone is marked and very welcome. Recording that many more quotations have been sought and greater interest shown than for a long time past, Messrs. Robert Barbour & Brother, Ltd., in their monthly circular, give the credit for the change to the improvement in the political situation in China, which, they say, has been followed by a freer distribution of goods, an increase in demand, and a more optimistic feeling in regard to the future, despite the continued depressed rate of the tael. It is a long lane that knows no turning. China has been through some years of chaos, and the internal condition of the country has suffered tremendously, but with the return of peace China promptly reasserts her recuperative powers, and Lancashire is in the field to supply her needs.

What Lancashire is doing to meet the demand is to standardise output and adapt the mills to produce limited ranges of goods economically and at competitive prices. The Lancashire Cotton Corporation has reopened many mills, and adapted their plants to certain types of output, to enable them to recover the business, quite unnecessarily lost to foreign competitors. The effort so far has met with exceedingly promising results. With the news of the improved outlook in China came the announcement that the Kung Ping cloth auction at Shanghai was to cease at the end of last month. Until three or four years ago three auction sales of British cotton goods were held at Shanghai each week, and it was estimated that about one-quarter of British exports of cotton goods to China were disposed of through these sales. The Kung Ping auction, held on Tuesday, was run by Probet, Hanbury & Co., Eno, run by Jardine, Matheson & Co., followed on Wednesday, and then Yuen Fong, run by Thorne & Co. on Thursday. Jardine, Matheson & Co. gave up their auction three or four years ago. The discontinuance of the Tuesday auction, at which the "chops" of several Manchester shippers were sold, followed the decision of Probet, Hanbury & Co. to go into voluntary liquidation.

Mrs. Butler was asleep when the shot was fired, and a dog might have touched the trigger, accidentally discharging it.

Soviet's "Old Masters."

The Soviet Government it is said have recently sold Rembrandt's "Sobieski" from the Hermitage Museum to a firm of art dealers. The picture was bought by Catherine II. as a Rembrandt portrait of the King of Poland. This identification has, however, been disproved, and the picture is now titled more modestly, "A model in the dress of a Slav prince." Rembrandt's authorship has also been called in question. The Soviet collection in the old Hermitage collection, and the present number is doubtless greater as a result of "nationalisations."

A Lion's Flight to Croydon.

A visitor to Croydon was admiring the roomy nose of an aeroplane. "You could carry almost anything there," he said to a pilot. "Yes," was the answer. "We've had all sorts of things—pigs, cows and hens. Once we carried a lion. A cage was built into the machine, and the trainer sat behind. When the aeroplane arrived at Croydon, the watching crowd were puzzled to see a fence being built out from the aeroplane. You should have seen their faces when the lion walked down inside it! They did not know it was linking up another cage, and they did not wait to see!"

Byron Fakes.

In an attic of the American Library in Paris has been found a store of first editions of Byron's works, including even an inscribed first edition of "Childe Harold." "To the Cardinal," thus has Byron written in the flyleaf, "with all my heart." Unfortunately Byron in 1812 had never met a cardinal. He saw a cardinal once at Mme. Albizzi's in 1818—but not to the point of presenting him with a first edition of "Childe Harold." There are just now many Byron fakes floating about Paris notably a holograph Byron letter which was produced in facsimile. Many people have purchased this letter believing it to be an original.

Asocial Dictators.

Mr. Otto Forst de Battaglia (a highly pugnacious surname) has edited a symposium upon the dictatorship problem, the English edition of which is published under the title "Dictatorship on its Trial." It contains in the first place an introduction by Mr. Winston Churchill. It contains in the second place articles by such world-wide authorities as Ferrero, Lobo, Vandervelde, Einstein, Romanones, and Herman Wendel. And the more human touches are supplied by such writers as André Maurois and Maurice Redel. The latter's section on "Love and Dictatorship" is depressing. For it would appear as if all dictators are prudish and wet blankets. And Dora is both lax and skittish compared to the Calvinistic asceticism of Mussolini.

Bishop of 43.

The Rev. M. G. Haigh, appointed Bishop of Coventry at the age of 43, succeeded Dr. Bell as private secretary at Lambeth on the latter's appointment to the Bishopric of Chichester. Only once before has so young a cleric been appointed to an important diocese, and that was in the case of the present Bishop of London, who was forty-three on his translation to Fulham Palace. Mr. Haigh is an unassuming man, whose unfailing courtesy to everyone makes Lambeth a pleasant place to visit. He has many admirable qualities, not the least of which is a conscientiousness which impels him to answer all his correspondence by return of post.

Government by Fabians.

Many Labour members are talking about the dominance in the Government of that very academic body, the Fabian Society. Many people believe that this organisation, through which many intellectuals entered the Socialist movement, had ceased to exist. But it goes on with a membership, small but influential—some 5000. Yet practically every recent appointment, either to high or low office, in the Labour administration has been made from the membership of the society, the latest examples of which are the new Air Minister, Lord Amulree, and the new Solicitor-General, Sir Stafford Cripps. This ascendancy is largely due to the powerful influence of Lord Passfield and his wife, Mrs. Sidney Webb, with whom the Fabian Society has been the passion of their lives.

B—1.

As a protest against the frequent use of what he called a "disgraceful word" in the first act of "Empress Jones," Mr. Eugene O'Neill's play, Mr. Ernest Lewis Williams, a Cardiff shipowner, walked out of the Cardiff Empire with his family. The word to which exception was taken is that which caused a stir when Mr. George Bernard Shaw first employed it in "Pygmalion." "I was in the theatre with my family, including four daughters, whose ages range from 13 to 20," Mr. Williams said afterwards. "The constant use of a disgusting word and the general tone of the play were disgusting to say the least, and as a protest my family and I left the theatre. In passing out 'Stop that stuff.' It has come to something if we cannot take our daughters to places of entertainment without having them shocked in this manner." The principal part in the play was taken by Mr. Paul Robeson.

Looking Back 25 Years.

The interned Russian sailors who are encamped at Kowloon are about to take their departure. They will leave here on Friday by the Russian cruiser Almas which arrived in the port on Saturday from Vladivostok. This vessel, commanded by Captain Ougromoff, was a unit in the Baltic Fleet and succeeded in passing southwards through the Japanese lines to the northern port. The officers and men interned at Kowloon number 38, and are in charge of Mr. Skardloff. The Almas proceeds to Saigon.—Hong Kong Daily Press, Dec. 1, 1930.

Looking Back 50 Years.

In his report of the trade of Nippon for the year 1879, Mr. Commissioner Drow remarks upon the increased use of kerosene by the Chinese. He says that 77,000 gallons of this oil, valued at H.K. $14,100,342, were imported and added. "This is nearly twenty times the import of six years before, and thrice the import of the preceding years." It is marvellous how rapidly, with the decreasing cost, the use of the "fire oil" has spread, like the element from which the Chinese have named it, from house to house and from hamlet to hamlet, until it is to be found in every little shop throughout this entire region, ready to be laded out from the open tins in which it stands exposed for sale in the smallest quantities—a few czech worth, or time. No single article of foreign import now represents so high an annual value in our tables, except opium, grey shirtings, cloth and tin. Kerosene is produced by the Chinese, and of all the things which have happened in olden days!

CRISIS IN BRITAIN'S COAL INDUSTRY.

FEDERATION REJECTS "SPREAD-OVER" SYSTEM.
SCOTTISH MINERS CEASE WORK TO-DAY.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, Nov. 29. It is stated that Lancashire is far from pleased at the Miners' Federation decision that the Federation is unprepared to accept a wage reduction as a result of the seven and a half hour day, or to bargain with the owners, based on the statutory clause which permits a "spread-over" of hours.

North Wales, South Wales, Cumberland, Scotland, and possibly some Midland districts will, according to Mr. A. J. Cook, be involved in stoppages on December 1, unless the position in the meantime alters.

The delegates to the conference reasonable on December 4. In the meantime, Mr. Tom Roberts, President of the Miners' Federation, has gone to South Wales, where the Mine-Owners' Association offer of a "spread-over" was rejected after the miners' representatives had heard the Miners' Federation's decision.

On the eve of the announcement of the Railway Trade Union's replies to the directors' proposed "cuts" in wages, which is understood to be emphatic, their rejection is announced.

The London, Midland and Scottish Railway have decided to reduce directors' fees by 25 per cent.

Invitation to Work. Later, a Government telegram asks the owners to meet the workmen, to conclude the temporary arrangements and continue working pending a further Federation conference next week. It also asks the workmen to meet the employers and endeavour to return to work on December 1. The Miners' Federation has telegraphed its district associations advising them immediately to endeavour to make temporary arrangements to work seven and a half hours on the best terms obtainable on day to day contracts until the conference meeting on December 4.

Serious Situation Develops. A serious situation has developed in the coal industry in consequence of the decision of the Miners' Federation to reject the "spread-over" system.

This decision, taken at a five-hour meeting of the miners' delegates conference to-day, causes difficulties for the districts in which they have been considering proposals for new agreements, based thereon.

It is feared that unless temporary agreement is reached sectional stoppages will start on December 1.

The attitude of the Federation may be gathered from the fact that it adopted a recommendation to consider that all districts should give notice for a national strike in the event of any one district being involved in the stoppage.

Later, the Miners' Department announce that following the miners' conference decision, Mr. W. Graham, President of the Board of Trade, and Mr. Shinwell met representatives of the Miners' Federation and the Mining Association. The Government subsequently telegraphed owners and miners in the districts affected by the decision with a view to averting a stoppage.

Miners' Demand on Reduction of Hours. In regard to the coal situation, the "spread-over" system is the method proposed by the mine-owners to meet the Act of Parliament which, from December 1, makes the miners' working day seven and a half instead of eight hours.

The mine-owners propose a 45-hour week, or a 90-hour fortnight, but they consider that a rigid adherence to a seven hours and a half day is uneconomic and would involve a reduction in wages.

The newspapers draw attention to the national crisis, and the Daily Herald points out that the miners, in rejecting all compromise as regards reduction of hours, have exercised their right as specifically laid down by the Act.

Resumption of Work in England. To-day? Mr. Cook, the Secretary of the Miners' Federation, interviewed by Reuters, said that temporary agreements enabling a resumption of work on Monday will be reached in all the districts in England.

He said he was still hopeful that a stoppage would be averted in Scotland.

Complete Stoppage in Scottish Coalfields. London, Nov. 29. The National Union of Scottish Miners has decided on a complete stoppage in the Scottish coalfields from to-morrow afternoon.

Ninety-two thousand men are affected.

Government's Prompt Action.

Rugby, Nov. 29.

The Government took prompt action last night following the unexpected decision reached by a majority vote at the Miners' Federation delegates' conference refusing permission to the districts to accept a "spread-over" of hours.

A further meeting of the Federation is fixed for Thursday.

New Coal Act.

The new Coal Act, which comes into operation on Monday, allows "spread-over" schemes to be operated in the districts, but gives the Miners' Federation the power of veto.

This vote the Federation exercised in spite of the fact that schemes had been accepted in five districts of North Wales, Cumberland, North Staffordshire, Leicestershire and Bristol.

It is understood that the Miners' Federation reached their decision contrary to the advice of their officials. When it became known the President of the Board of Trade, Mr. W. Graham, and the Secretary for Mines, Mr. Shinwell, had separate meetings with the representatives of both the owners and miners.

Government's Telegrams to Owners and Miners. Later, the Government despatched to the districts affected by the decision telegrams to the owners and workmen.

The telegram to the owners read: "Hope you will arrange to meet workmen and conclude temporary arrangements to continue working pending further Miners' Federation conference next week. Am advising conference to approach you."

The telegram to the workmen read: "Urge you to meet employers and endeavour to arrange to work on Monday."

Federation's Advice. The Miners' Federation has sent a telegram to their district associations stating: "In view of the conference decision, we advise you to approach the owners immediately and endeavour to make temporary arrangements to work 7½ hours on the best terms obtainable for day to day contracts until after a further conference meeting next Thursday."

Mr. Cook, secretary of the Miners' Federation, states that in spite of the delegates' conference decision he was hopeful of a peaceful settlement and would do all he could to prevent a stoppage. He was sure the workmen were anxious for a temporary settlement in view of the operation of the Miners' Act until next Thursday's Federation conference, when the miners, in the light of the full facts, would have an opportunity to reconsider the whole position.

Labour Organ's View. The Daily Herald (Labour organ) expresses the view: "If a respite can be gained by preventing stoppages on Monday, there is every ground for the hope that before next week is out the Government's good offices will effect a general settlement."

Government's Appeal for a Truce. Later, following the Government's appeal for a truce, meetings were being arranged in the districts to-day.

BRITISH RAILWAY COYS. DEMANDS.

UNION SECRETARY'S VEILED THREAT.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, Nov. 29.

Mr. C. T. Cramp, General Secretary of the Railwaymen's Union, in a speech at New Cross to-day, said that the railwaymen were not going to accept the companies' demands.

He hinted that if peace could not be secured with honour it might be necessary to strike.

FOREIGN PRIESTS IN CAPTIVITY.

ELEVEN CHINESE LIBERATED.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

SHANGHAI, Nov. 29. The Roman Catholic Bishop, the Rt. Rev. C. Mignani, in a message from Kianfu (which was recently recaptured by Nationalist forces), states that six Chinese priests and five Chinese nuns captured by Reds on October 14 have been liberated, but the Reds have sent four foreign Fathers and five Sisters to Tangkiansu, 40 miles south-east of Kian, under an escort.

It is feared that the hardships of the march in the hilly country will prove injurious to the older Sisters.

A Reuter cable from Peiping, dated October 21, stated: "The Apostolic Delegation received a telegram from Kianfu this morning stating that the Roman Catholic Bishop, the Rt. Rev. C. Mignani, six priests and 10 nuns were recently carried off by bandits from Kian, on the Kai River, Kinghsien 115 miles south of the provincial capital, Nanchang. All the captives are Italian or Chinese, with the exception of one priest, who is a Frenchman. Four of the ten Sisters are Chinese. From the meagre information at present available, it is learned that two of the Chinese priests among the captives have been killed by the bandits. Bishop Mignani and the French priest were released and sent to Kianfu to arrange for the ransom of ten others, who are being kept as hostages."

CONTROL OF MANCHU REVENUES.

AGREEMENT BETWEEN MUKDEN AND NANKING.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

SHANGHAI, Nov. 29. The North China Daily News publishes a message from Nanking reporting that the Minister of Finance, Mr. T. Y. Soong, has arrived at a complete understanding with Marshal Chang Hsueh Liang regarding the control of Manchurian revenues.

In addition arrangements regarding Customs salt services in Manchuria have been made, and it was decided that tobacco revenues be consolidated under the Ministry of Finance, with the result that such revenues from the Northern Provinces and Manchuria will come direct to the National Treasury.

CHINESE EASTERN RAILWAY CONFERENCE.

M. KARAKHAN'S NOTE TO CHINESE DELEGATE.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

NANKING, Nov. 29. Replying to M. Karakhan's Note in regard to the Chinese Eastern Railway controversy, Mr. Teh Hui, the head Chinese delegate to the Conference, states: "A careful perusal reveals that what you have said therein is due to a misunderstanding, and in most cases it is also irrelevant. This is especially true with your statements concerning the C.E.R., regarding which the Chinese Government have already made declarations of the most explicit nature. Your misapprehension in this connection, therefore, is quite inexcusable to me. However, the important point at the present time is the continuation of our conference. If you are agreeable, I am prepared to resume the sessions with you immediately."

DO-X ON FIRE.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LISBON, Nov. 29. Fire has broken out on board the German giant flying-boat DO-X.

The fire on board the DO-X has been extinguished.

The left wing has been completely destroyed.

The fire on board the DO-X was due to a spark from the auxiliary engine for recharging the batteries.

The crew dashed for the extinguishers, and were aided by the local firemen and members of the Portuguese Air Force.

The repairs will take several weeks.

There was plenty of fuel in the tanks, so that the DO-X risked complete destruction.

DRUG SEIZURES AT SHANGHAI.

TWO MILLION DOLLARS WORTH DESTROYED.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

SHANGHAI, Nov. 29. Accompanied by a heavy armed guard for fear of thieves, Customs officials early this morning transported across the river 600 pounds of heroin and 623 pounds of morphine, recently seized on the steamers Coldilans and Cracovia, for the purpose of burning.

Local Chinese and foreign officials stood for three hours watching the destruction of more than $2,000,000 worth of drugs.

In addition, they burned $250,000 worth of opium, representing seizures from Yangtze River vessels during the past three months.

An earlier message stated: "The Commissioner of Customs in Shanghai had informed the Secretary-General of the League of Nations that large quantities of dangerous drugs were aboard the Italian steamer Cracovia."

The seizure of which was effected as a result of information supplied by the League Secretariat, were shipped from Constantinople.

It was stated that they were intended for the United States. A secret organization has been discovered whose object is to ship drugs to the United States.

The seizure included 603 pounds of heroin concealed among raisins, jam, and kerosene, and 623 pounds of morphine.

INDIAN ROUND-TABLE CONFERENCE.

FULL MEETING OF FEDERAL RELATIONS COMMITTEE.

COMPONENT ELEMENTS OF FEDERATION.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

Rugby, Nov. 29.

The first full meeting of the enlarged Federal Relations Committee of the Indian Round Table Conference met this afternoon.

The Prime Minister presided and explained that it was proposed to have a general discussion on the heads of the subjects prepared by Lord Chancellor Sankey, then remit them to a special Sub-Committee for an investigation of the implications and for a suggestion of methods for overcoming difficulties. The Sub-Committee's report would be considered by a Committee of the whole Conference, and the Prime Minister hoped that the Conference would succeed in embodying the conclusions in a series of resolutions.

It was agreed that Lord Sankey's heads should be adopted as a provisional agenda.

In the documents by Lord Sankey the heads of the subjects were preceded by what was described as a preamble.

After some discussion on the proposal to amend the wording of this to include the word dominion, it was agreed to regard it simply as an introduction to the heads of subjects and not as a preamble defining the character of the contemplated constitution.

Lord Sankey gave an exposition of the scope of the head of number one, namely, the component elements of federation.

After discussion it was agreed that a Sub-Committee should be appointed by the Chairman after consultation with the Business Committee to report on the types of federal structures and the component elements of the same.

Federal Structure Sub-Committee. It was later announced that the Sub-Committee, which will be known as the Federal Structure Sub-Committee, comprises: the Chairman, Lord Sankey, and from the British Delegation, Mr. Leo Smith, Lord Lothian and a Conservative delegate (to be nominated).

From the Indian States Delegation are the Nawab of Bhopal, the Maharaja of Bilkaner, Alwar, Hyderabad, Mirza Ismail, and Colonel Haksar. For the British India Delegation are Sir Srinivas Sastri, Sapru, Ramaswami, Aiyar, Jaykar, Ujjal Singh, Jinnah, Shafi, Gavin, Jones, Ramaswami, Mudaliyar and Sultan Ahmed.

It will begin its work on Monday morning.

The full Committee will meet in the afternoon to consider the remainder of the 12 heads.

Burma's Place. Addressing the Committee, Lord Sankey said that the first heading might seem to invite discussion as to whether, whether Burma should be a component unit or should be the Sind should be separated from Bombay or what should be the position of the North-West Frontier Province. That was not the intention. It was hoped to exclude all such matters of detail until a later period, possibly until after these questions have been examined by the Sub-Committee.

What was to be discussed now was the theory of what should be the component elements of federation. Theoretically there are several possibilities, firstly, union of all States on the one hand and British India on the other, combining to make a Federation; secondly, federation of British India, on the one side, and on the other the States entering singly; thirdly, federation of which the component elements were each province and each State.

Three things must be borne in mind: Firstly, that British India was at present a unitary State divided for the purposes of convenience into provinces and not a number of provinces federated to form a State; secondly, there was hardly any organic connection between the States or any kind of them and British India. Thus between the Government of India and the States there were treaties and sanads and powers resulting from the doctrine of paramountcy, but the subjects of the States were not British subjects. Other trends of subjects for discussion under the first head which entrenchment somewhat on other heads having been indicated, the general discussion was dropped and the matter was referred to the Sub-Committee.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, Nov. 29. The Federal Relations Committee of the Round Table Conference consisting of all the delegates to the Conference, in accordance with the British Indian delegation's suggestion, agreed to refer to sub-committees a number of suggestions for the discussion of the Federal Union drawn up by Lord Chancellor Sankey.

The first committee of 10, appointed under the Chairmanship of Lord Sankey, will report on the types of the federal structure and the component elements thereof, and also the type of Federal Legislature and the number of Chambers whereof it should consist.

PRINCE OF WALES TO VISIT BRAZIL.

PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT'S INVITATION.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUGBY, Nov. 29. The Prince of Wales has accepted the invitation extended through the Brazilian Ambassador in London by the Provisional Government of Brazil to visit Brazil on his return journey from the Argentine next Spring.

In delivering the invitation the Ambassador emphasised the great pleasure the visit would afford his Government and the Brazilian nation and expressed the hope that the invitation would be considered as proof of the high respect and great esteem in which he is held in Brazil, and of the traditional friendship of Brazil for Great Britain.

THE LAI WAH CUP COMPETITION.

CIVILIANS SCORE EASY WIN OVER ROYAL NAVY.

SOUTH WALES BORDERERS WIN THEIR FIRST MATCH IN THE HONG KONG LEAGUE.

Before a large crowd at Happy Valley on Saturday, the Civilians defeated the Royal Navy in the first of the games in the Lai Wah Cup competition by the comfortable margin of five goals to two. The result did not come as a surprise as the Civilians fielded a very formidable eleven and are fancied by many as being able to retain the Cup for another season.

The South Wales Borderers played their first match in the Colony when they beat the R.A. by 5-2 at Sookunpoo while the Division II. match at the Stadium resulted in a runaway win for the Navy against the Athletic "B" by 7 goals to 2.

There were some close struggles in Division III. Fukien and Ewo fought out a good draw. The R.A.S.C. are still without a win.

LAI WAH CUP.

CIVILIANS QUALIFY FOR SECOND ROUND.

Before a large crowd on the Club ground on Saturday, the Civilians eleven brought off a smashing victory against the Royal Navy in the Lai Wah Cup competition. The Civilians, who fielded a strong side, started favourites.

Losing the toss, they were set to play with the sun in their eyes and broke through right from the start, but Segalen, the Club forward, mis-kicked, and the ball went out of play. A pretty movement on the part of the Navy forwards was checked by Bishop who neatly robbed Stephenson of the ball and sent the leather to the Navy half where A. Gosano failed to trap it when he was in a very favourable position.

The Civilians, however, kept on pressing, and A. Gosano had bad luck in hitting the upright with a very hard drive. Dixon cleared from the rebound and sent Magee away on the wing but this player was also dogged by bad luck, his shot just skimming the cross-bar. The sailors then pressed hard and Cartwright forced a corner but Oram cleared from the flag-kick. Midfield play followed for a while, and during this time Hedley was prominent for some very good play. Then B. Gosano broke through only to be checked by Langmead whom things looked dangerous for the Navy, and from the resultant kick, Magee gained possession of the ball and ran through on his own to try Clarke with a low shot which was, however, well cleared.

The First Goal.

Play was confined to the Civilians' half for a time and Magee was well to the fore with some very pretty football. Then the Civilians got away, and Duncan passed neatly to A. Gosano who ran in to score the opening goal. Immediately after, the same two players combined very well together and with Duncan tapping the ball neatly to him again, Gosano headed the leather just out of the reach of the Navy goalie, thus giving his side the comfortable lead of two goals to nil in the first half.

After the Interval.

The Civilians started off with a great burst of speed when play was in progress. A matter of inches, a minute after the start, player after player, a hard shot in and Civilians earned a second goal by bringing off a brilliant save.

Then followed a brief spell when the Navy forwards aided the Civilians' goal when Clarke saved a hard shot from Cartwright at the expense of a corner. The corner kick was cleared and getting the ball, B. Gosano did a solo run down the field but finished up an excellent piece of work by shooting wide.

About this stage, Segalen and B. Gosano were combining very nicely together, but several opportunities to score were lost. Then A. Gosano went through to score his third successive goal—performing the "hat-trick"—to borrow a cricket expression.

The sailors were by no means downhearted but their chances to score were reduced by the excellent work put in by Bishop and Strang at back. Segalen came in for some prominence again when he broke through to send in a hard shot which which Clucas almost saved. The goalie had bad luck this time, for the ball hit his foot and then rolled slowly into the goal. Then followed another goal by A. Gosano to bring the Civilians' total up to five.

Play was then taken to the Civilians' half when a free kick against Clarke for carrying resulted in the sailors getting their first goal. Spurred on by this success they pressed hard again and a very nice shot by Stephenson beat Clarke all the way and gave the Navy their second point.

From this stage, play was very fast and interesting, but in spite of their repeated efforts to reduce the lead, the final whistle went with the Navy still three goals in arrears. The teams were:—
Civilians: Clarke, Bishop, Strang, McBride, Oram (Capt.), Hedley, B. Gosano, Segalen, A. Gosano, Roche and Duncan.
Navy: Clucas, Dixon, Langmead, Gatehouse, Tilley (Capt.), Timberlake, Magee, Cartwright, Peacock, Stephenson and Dickenson.

LEAGUE—DIVISION I.

S. W. BORDERERS v. R.A.

This match was played on the Military ground, Sookunpoo, when the South Wales Borderers made a good start in Hong Kong football by defeating the Royal Artillery by five goals to two.

This match was not on the fixture list and was brought forward, as it was stated that, owing to the Lai Wah Cup there would be no Senior League games played on Saturday.

DIVISION II.

ATHLETIC v. NAVY.

This match was played at the Stadium and ended in an overwhelming defeat of the home team by seven goals to one. From the kick-off the Athletic attacked and Aitken was twice called upon to save from certain goals before the danger was averted. The Chinese continued to press but many openings were missed owing to their forwards running out of position.

During an attack a Navy defender nattered and the Chinese were awarded a penalty which, however, proved fruitless, the ball hitting the cross-bar. The Chinese were not to be denied, however, and by some clever passing by the forwards Leung Tat Wing opened the score with a fast drive.

With this set-back the sailors tried hard to equalise and were soon awarded a Skiner sending in a fast drive which completely beat the Chinese goalie.

After the interval, the Navy attacked and Scorer sent in a shot which the Chinese goal-keeper fumbled and Redgate had no difficulty in giving his side a lead. The Chinese attacked but the Navy defence kept them back. After some end to end play, the sailors were awarded a foul about thirty yards from the Chinese goal, from which Skinner scored with a shot that gave the goalie no chance. Discouraged by this the Chinese began to fall off and the sailors, taking advantage of this, began to mount up their score to seven before the final whistle was sounded.

Result:—
Athletic 1
Navy 7

Athletic: Wong Yum Sing; Wong Siu Wo; Wong Ping; Tam Kong Wing; Lai Kwok Chiu; Fung Man Kit; Hui Kim Hung; Chau Yuen Kwai; Li Yee Sun; Leung Tat Wing and Li Fong.
Navy: Atkin; Carter; Ward; Robertson; Hobbs; Butler; Morgan; Scorer; Redgate; Kirkby and Skinner.

CLUB v. RECREIO.

Weakness in shooting on the part of the Club forwards were responsible for them not getting two valuable points. During the first fifteen minutes Recreio were handicapped by the absence of two players and the Club had most of the play. Recreio were mostly confined in their own half, but the Club could not make use of the many good opportunities that were offered owing to the weakness of their forwards.

After the interval, play became brighter and Recreio opened their scoring through a good solo effort by F. Santos. The Club then retaliated, and from a good pass from Bell, Strang equalised.

Result:—
Club 1
Recreio 1

Club: Fegwell; Stokes; Hynes; Sloan, Punchedon; Hooper; Alexander, Bell, Strang, Smith and Tavlin.
Recreio: W. Lawrence; Rosa Pereira, Silva; Figueiredo, E. Lawrence, Assis; J. Santos, F. Santos, Brito, Sousa and Almaraz.
Referee: Mr. T. G. Stokes.

ST. JOSEPH'S v. R.A.

Playing on their own ground, the Saints defeated the Gunners by one goal to nil. The R.A. were very unlucky to lose and deserved to share the points as they had more of the game than the winners.

From the start the Gunners attacked and were rather unfortunate in not scoring when there was only the goal-keeper to beat. A misunderstanding by the R.A. defence allowed Omar to get through and score with a nice cross-shot. The Gunners were not to be deterred and were soon awarded a penalty through dangerous play by Rahman. Seal took the kick but Rocha brought off a magnificent save.

In the second half the Gunners tried hard to equalise and Seal had hard luck with a shot that hit the cross-bar. From now on the R.A. did most of the attacking but were stopped from scoring by the good work of the College defence. St. Joseph's: Rocha, Rahman, Cruz; McGrann, K. M. Omar, O. M. Omar; Ali, Gomez, Castilho, A. M. Omar and Bautista.
R.A.: Combe; Morris; Hall; Hadkins, Evans, Pardoe; Truce, Stanton, Seal, Schofield and Kinard.

KOWLOON v. SOUTH CHINA.

Played on the Railway ground, this match ended in a draw. The game was fast from the kick-off and both goals were visited in turn. The Chinese opened their scoring through Chung Fai Lam who sent in a splendid shot from some twenty-five yards which took Angus by surprise. Following this reverse Kowloon attacked strongly but many good chances were missed through the faulty shooting of their forwards. It may be mentioned here that had the Kowloon forwards made use of the easy chances that were offered they would have won by a comfortable margin.

After the interval Kowloon continued to attack and after some brilliant efforts by Bickford, were soon able to equalise by the same player who sent in a nice cross-shot. Kowloon: Angus; Guest and Eastman; Everest, Gilhurst and Smith; White, Brown, Sparrow, Hawke and Bickford.
South China: Tsai Kim Hang; Chung Shok Kam and Lau Kiu; Xue Wah Hing, Chung Kwok Chor and Pang Wah Chung; Kwok Hon Wah, Chung Fai Lam, Wu Yim Tung, Yip Yun Sum and Wong King Chung.

DIVISION III.

SOUTH CHINA v. ATHLETIC.

This match was played at Caroline Hill and ended in a draw. From the start the Athletic attacked strongly but South China defence held out till Chan Hui Ting put in a nice goal for the Athletic. South China, however, were not to be deterred and after some nice passing by their forwards soon equalised. From now on South China did most of the attacking but were stopped from scoring by the Athletic defence.

South China: Chan Ki Cheung; Yu Kau Ping, Pang Tin Sing; Wo Kam Fuk, Tang Hon Sing, Luk Fook Wa; Cheung To Kwong, Tsai Yui, Hang, Chui Fook, Yeung Sui Yick and Lui Kong Kum.
Athletic: Fung Hing Tong; Cheung Go Tin, Tang Cheung Pak; Siu Au Lin, Hui Siu Kung, Chan Kong Hing, Ng Tung Kong, Chau Cheun Yuen, Wong Wing Hing and Li Ping Sza.

FUKIEN v. EWO.

This match was played on the College ground and resulted in a draw of one all. Play was for the most part even. The referee had occasion to caution one of the players for dangerous play.

Fukien scored first through Tang Tak Kwong early in the first half. Ewo equalised near the end of the game through Ho Yuen Tin. Fukien: Tang Shui Wa; Ma Ping Chong, Ip Shi Ming; Hui Siu Chi, Tang King Kui, Ma Pung Iong; Leung Chi Man, Wah Sun, Cheung Kam Sang and Tsang Tak Kwong.
Ewo: Chan Yau Po; Chau Fook Yui, Chan Mok Shing; Lo Ho Hang, Lai Tai Chi; So Ho Ching, Ho Yuen Tin, Chow Yew Lai, Kwan Sik Wa, Au Ping Ming and Wong Ip Yu.

R.A.F. v. R.A.S.C.

The airman attacked strongly from the start and Hudson had hard luck in shooting over the bar. Funnell handled just outside the penalty and Atkins opened the scoring for the airman from the free kick. The Service Corps had bad luck when Brennan hit the upright bar. The airman then returned to the attack and Hudson put them further ahead from a scrimmage in the goal mouth. Ten minutes before the end Hudson reduced the deficit from a penalty kick and shortly afterwards, Brennan broke through and scored a good goal.

Result:—
R.A.F. 3
R.A.S.C. 2
R.A.F.: Griffith; Harvey and Blunier; Jones, Hart and Summers; Brine, Hudson, Atkins, Cox and Ward.
R.A.S.C.: Andrews; Bunney and Funnell; Griggs, Hamer and Simpson; Cole, Ansley, Brennan, Lewis and Doyle.

INDIANS REGISTER THEIR SIXTH WIN.

POLICE RECREATION CLUB SHARE POINTS WITH CRAIGENGOWER C.C.

KOWLOON OVERWHELMS ROYAL ARTILLERY IN FRIENDLY.

Only two league fixtures were played over the week-end, and while one of them (C.C.C. v. Police) resulted in a draw, the other saw the Indian Recreation Club and XI. register their sixth consecutive win of the season, their victims this time being the Royal Corps of Signals.

The league fixture between the Craigengower Cricket Club and Hong Kong Cricket Club was turned into a friendly and this resulted in a win for the Happy Valley team by 10 runs. Kowloon C.C. accounted for the Royal Artillery easily in the senior division but their junior eleven had a hard time on the C.S.C.C. ground where they were beaten by five wickets. The encounter between H.K.C.C. 2nd XI. and Club de Recreio on the former's ground saw the home team winning rather comfortably.

The highest scorer of the afternoon was F. E. Lawrence of the Kowloon Cricket Club who put together 65 rapidly in their match with the Artillery, while bowling honours went to F. M. el Arculli of the I.R.C. Seconds, who took 5 wickets for 9 runs in their game with the Royal Corps of Signals.

LEAGUE—DIVISION II.

INDIANS WIN AGAIN.

Royal Signals Dismissed Cheaply.

As was generally expected, the Indian Recreation Club juniors took full points from the Royal Corps of Signals when they met on the latter's ground on Saturday.

The home team batted first but against some steady bowling by the Indians, they could not get more than 52 runs. F. M. el Arculli was the most successful bowler, taking five wickets for just under two runs apiece.

Faced with this small total, the I.R.C. wiped off the deficit with nine wickets to spare. A. R. Sufiad played a pretty knock for 40 not out, while M. P. Madar again came off with a sound 32.

The scores were:—

The other league fixture of the afternoon—Police v. Craigengower which was played on the former's ground, resulted in the teams sharing the points.

The visitors had first knock, and thanks to 33 by Y. Abbas and 31 by D. M. A. Razack, totalled 142. Bookers was the most successful bowler for the Police, taking 3 wickets for 20 runs.

Despite the fact that the C.C.C. bowling was not very deadly, the home team found it hard to get the best of the visitors, with the result that they were only 10 for 3 wickets when they were drawn, with Meadows (43) and Alexander (35 not out) as their highest scorers.

LOCAL TENNIS.

LADIES' OPEN DOUBLES CHAMPIONSHIP.

The semi-finals of the ladies' open doubles championship of the Colony will take place at the United Services Recreation Club on Thursday, December 4, commencing at 2.30 p.m.

The order of play, which was decided by drawing lots, is as follows:—

2.30 p.m. Miss Enid Lo and Mrs. J. J. Patterson v. Mrs. Kearny and Mrs. J. B. Taylor.

On the conclusion of this match Mrs. MacFarish and Mrs. Cuthill will play Mrs. Gull and Mrs. McCaw.

The final of the championship will be held on the same ground on Monday, December 8, at 3.30 p.m.

Sir Robert Ho Tung has generously given two Challenge Cups for the event and Lady Peel has kindly consented to present them to the winners on the conclusion of the final.

Members of the public will be admitted free to the ground on both days.

SHORTAGE OF CLERGY.

"TELLING ON THE LIFE OF OF THE CHURCH."

Five bishops in the Northern Province attended the twenty-first birthday celebration of St. John's College in the University of Durham last month, and by three of them references were made to the shortage of clergy. The Bishop of Manchester (Dr. Warren) said, "The whole problem of ordination candidates can be solved if there is enough money. It ought to be impossible for any young man whom God has called to the ministry, and who is regarded as the right man to respond to the call, to be refused ordination simply because there are no funds to pay for his training. The modern person must not be a cheap and nasty article because there is not enough money to spend upon him."

The Bishop of Ripon (Dr. Burroughs) said, "It is not only the Evangelical movement but the future of the Church of England which is at stake, for,
